This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. MAJOR UNITS OF ORGANIZATION OF THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The Attorney General is the head of the Department of Justice (see sec. 346, R. S.) and as such is the chief law officer of the Federal Government. He represents the United States in legal matters generally and gives advice and opinions when requested by the President or by the heads of the executive departments.

He appears in the Supreme Court of the United States in cases of exceptional gravity and importance; exercises general superintendence and direction over United States district attorneys and marshals in the various judicial districts of the United States, and provides special counsel for the United States in cases of exceptional importance or when the character of the interests involved requires such action. (See sec. 354, R. S., as amended by act of February 27, 1877, 19 Stat., 241–; secs. 356, 357, and 358, R. S.; act of June 30, 1906, 34 Stat. 816–; secs. 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, and 366 R. S.)

SOLICITOR GENERAL.

The Solicitor General assists the Attorney General in the execution of his duties and, by special provision of law, exercises all such duties in case of a vacancy in the office of the Attorney General, or his absence or disability.

Under the direction of the Attorney General, the Solicitor General has special charge of the business of and appears for and represents the Government in the Supreme Court of the United States.

When requested by the Attorney General, the Solicitor General prepares opinions rendered to the President and the heads of the executive departments, and may conduct and argue any case in which the United States is interested, in any court of the United States, or may attend to the interests of the Government in any State court or elsewhere, conferring with and directing the law officers of the Government throughout the country in the performance of their duties when occasion requires. (See secs. 347 and 349, R. S.)

ASSISTANT TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The Assistant to the Attorney General has special charge of all suits and other matters arising under the Federal antitrust laws and performs such duties as may be required of him by the Attorney General.

In addition he has, under current assignments, charge of Alien Property Custodian matters and also investigations and prosecutions of alleged frauds in war contracts, as well as Shipping Board litigation (excepting admiralty). (Originally authorized under act of Mar. 3, 1903, sec. 1, 32 Stat., 1062. Salary increased to $9,000 per annum by act of Aug. 22, 1913, 38 Stat. 218.)

ASSISTANT ATTORNEYS GENERAL.

The several Assistant Attorneys General assist the Attorney General in the performance of his duties and when directed prepare legal opinions and under assignment by the Solicitor General assist in the argument of cases in the Supreme Court. In addition thereto each, under the organization of the department, has special duties, respectively, as follows:

Digitized by Google

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The administrative assistant exercises, by order of the Attorney General, supervision over all of the major units of organization of the Department, including the Division of Investigation, Division of Accounts, appointment clerk, disbursing clerk, superintendent of prisons, pardon attorney, and the chief clerk; and also general supervision, as above, over United States attorneys and marshals.

This office has charge of authorizations for appointments and the salaries pertaining thereto, when not otherwise fixed by law, also promotions and demotions both in the department and the field, as well as all other departmental administrative matters.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL. IN CHARGE OF CLAIMS AGAINST THE UNITED STATES.

This assistant has charge generally of claims against the United States in the Court of Claims and in the district courts. When assigned thereto by the Solicitor General, he is also charged with the preparation of briefs and argument of such cases on appeal in the Supreme Court of the United States.

One of the most important branches of this work is the defense of claims against the Government involving the use by it of patented inventions, trade-marks and copyrights, also interference proceedings in patent matters and claims arising under the settlement of war contracts.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL. IN CHARGE OF PUBLIC LAND MATTERS, PUBLIC LANDS DIVISION.

This assistant has charge of all suits and proceedings under the public land laws, including those instituted to set aside conveyances of allotted lands, cases involving water rights, reclamation and irrigation projects, oil lands and forest reserves, boundary disputes, Indian litigation, and also condemnation proceedings instituted by the Government.

He also has charge of the examination of titles to land acquired by the United States and titles and land litigation in the District of Columbia. (See act of July 16, 1914, 38 Stat. 497.)

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL. IN CHARGE OF ADMIRALTY, FINANCE, ETC.

This assistant has charge of litigation involving admiralty, finance, foreign relations and insular affairs, including civil proceedings under the national banking act, the Federal Reserve act, the Federal farm loan act, and other like litigation.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL. IN CHARGE OF CRIMINAL MATTERS.

This assistant has charge of criminal cases generally, including matters involving criminal practice and procedure, such as questions concerning indictments, grand juries, search warrants, passports, alien enemies, extradition, etc.; also cases involving crimes on the high seas, crimes arising under the national banking act and under the naturalization laws, and generally directs district attorneys with respect to the conduct of criminal cases.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL. IN CHARGE OF PROHIBITION, TAXATION, COMMERCE, ETC.

This assistant is specifically charged with the general conduct of cases under the national prohibition acts and also those involving taxation, war risk insurance, Federal employees' compensation, and civil pensions; also minor regulations of commerce, such as those regulating hours of service, safety appliances on railroads, quarantine acts, pure food, meat inspection, game bird, insecticide and fungicide acts, etc.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL. IN CHARGE OF CUSTOMS MATTERS.

This assistant has charge of protecting the interests of the Government in matters of reappraisement and classification of imported goods before the several boards of United States General Appraisers and the Court of Customs Appeals.

CHIEF CLERK AND ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT.

The chief clerk and administrative assistant exercises general supervision over the clerical and subclerical forces of the department and is ex officio superintendent of the building.

Under the direction of the Administrative Assistant Attorney General, the chief clerk has supervision of the library, the division of mails and files, the division of printing and supplies, and the stenographic bureau.

He is also charged with the assembling and preparation of the annual report of the Attorney General, and the assembling and distribution of opinions and other publications.

DIVISION OF ACCOUNTS.

The Division of Accounts operates under and by virtue of specific statutes and is under the immediate supervision and direction of the Administrative Assistant Attorney General.

The chief of this division has charge, among other matters, of the preparation of pay rolls and the examination and audit of all accounts paid from appropriations for the department and the Federal courts, aggregating approximately $18,000,000 per annum. Departmental accounts are audited prior to payment and accounts of United States marshals and other disbursing officers, covering salaries and expenses of said marshals, United States attorneys, clerks of courts, etc., are examined after payment.

Authorizations for payment of the expenses of the department, as well as those of the courts, including office expenses and salaries of deputy marshals, deputy clerks, etc., are prepared in or authorized by this division, which also has charge of the approval of leases of court rooms and offices and the advancement of and accounting for judiciary funds.

The chief of this division also supervises and directs the examinations and investigations conducted by the field examiners of the department of offices and records of Federal courts, which involve the keeping of records, the taxation of costs, the accounting for fees, judgments, fines, etc., as well as the accounting for funds of private litigants and the conduct generally of court officials in connection with the discharge of official duties.

There is compiled in this division the statistical information required by law showing the business transacted in the courts of the United States, including bankruptcy statistics and fiscal reports relating to expenditures for the department and the courts published in the annual report of the Attorney General.

The chief of the division is Budget Officer of the Department of Justice, and estimates of all appropriations and deficiencies are prepared in the Division under his direction for submission to the Bureau of the Budget. With other officers of the department, the chief of the division appears before the appropriation committees of Congress, in defense of said estimates.

Briefly stated, the Division of Accounts is the financial, examining, auditing, and statistical units of the Department of Justice and the United States courts.

DIVISION OF INVESTIGATION.

The director or chief of this division has general charge, under the immediate supervision of the Administrative Assistant Attorney General, of the investigation of alleged offenses against the laws of the United States, excepting those arising under national prohibition and counterfeiting laws, which are otherwise provided for by special legislation.

Digitized by Google

He also directs the work of the special agents and bank accountants who are employed for the purpose of detecting crimes and collecting evidence for use in proposed or pending suits or prosecutions.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PRISONS.

The superintendent of prisons, under the supervision of the Administrative Assistant Attorney General, has charge of all matters directly relating to United States prisons and prisoners, including the maintenance of such prisoners in State and Federal penitentiaries, reform schools, and county jails.

The superintendent is also in charge of the construction work of the Federal penitentiaries at Leavenworth, Kans., and McNeil Island, Wash., as well as the management of the textile mill of the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga.

The superintendent of prisons is ex officio president of the boards of parole for the United States penitentiaries and the president of the board of parole for United States prisoners in each State or county institution in which United States prisoners are confined.

APPOINTMENT CLERK.

The appointment clerk has charge, under the immediate supervision of the Administrative Assistant Attorney General, of all matters relating to applications for positions, recommendations and appointments, including certifications by the Civil Service Commission; conducts correspondence pertaining thereto; prepares nominations for submission to the Senate; also commissions and appointments for the officers and employees of the department in Washington, and for United States attorneys, marshals, and other court officers.

This office also compiles the register of the Department of Justice (including the offices of the United States courts) and matter relating to that department for the Official Register of the United States, the Congressional Directory, etc.

DISBURSING CLERK.

The disbursing clerk, under the immediate direction of the Administrative Assistant Attorney General, pays all vouchers, claims, pay rolls, and accounts, prepared in, and audited and approved for payment by the Division of Accounts, from the appropriations for the department proper. He also pays the salaries of Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, and the judges and other officials of the courts in the District of Columbia, as well as the salaries of judges retired under the provisions of the judicial code. Such disbursements aggregate many millions of dollars annually.

The disbursing clerk is also authorized and directed to certify to the Bureau of Pensions of the Interior Department, all applications for refund of deductions from salaries under the provisions of the retirement act of May 22, 1920.

ATTORNEY IN CHARGE OF PARDONS.

The attorney in charge of pardons has, under the immediate direction of the Administrative Assistant Attorney General, charge of all applications for Executive clemency, except those of the Army and Navy.

He conducts all correspondence with respect thereto and prepares memoranda and recommendations for submission to the Attorney General and the Executive.

SOLICITORS, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS.

The solicitors for several of the executive department, under the provisions of sections 349 (as amended) and 350, Revised Statutes, exercise their functions under the supervision of the Attorney General. They are the Solicitor for the Department of the Interior, the Solicitor for the Department of State, the Solicitor of the Treasury, the Solicitor of Internal Revenue, the Solicitor for the Department of Commerce, and the Solicitor for the Department of Labor.

Digitized by Google

SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY.

The solicitor is the chief law officer of the Treasury Department, and his duties are to advise the officials of that department as to legal questions arising therein; to approve bonds of United States treasurers, collectors of internal revenue, and other officials, and to examine all contracts of, and official bonds filed in, the Treasury Department. He also examines titles to life-saving station sites, and renders such other legal services in connection with the administrative work of the Treasury Department as may be required of him.

SOLICITOR OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

The solicitor is the legal adviser to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and is especially charged with duties under section 3229, Revised Statutes of the United States, incident to the compromise of internal revenue cases.

SOLICITOR FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

The solicitor is the chief law officer of the Department of Commerce, and his duties are to act as legal adviser for the officials of that department; to prepare and examine all contracts and bonds entered into or required by said department; and to render such legal services in connection with the administrative work of said department as may be required of him.

SOLICITOR FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

The solicitor is the chief law officer of the Department of Labor, and his duties are to act as legal adviser to the officials of that department; to prepare and examine all contracts and bonds entered into or required by said department; and to render such legal services as may be required by the head of said department in connection with the administrative work thereof.

SOLICITOR FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

The solicitor is the chief law officer of the Department of State and is charged with advising the officials of that department as to questions of international law, passes upon claims of citizens of the United States against foreign governments, and claims of subjects of foreign governments against the United States. This office also handles applications for the extradition of criminals.

SOLICITOR FOR THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

The solicitor is the chief law officer of the Interior Department and when requested he advises the officials of that department upon questions of law arising in the administration of the department; all appeals from the various bureaus are sent to his office for consideration; oral arguments are heard by him in the more important cases, and decisions prepared under his supervision.

SOLICITOR FOR THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

The solicitor is the chief law officer and legal adviser of the Post Office Department, and when requested he advises the officials of that department upon questions of law arising in the administration thereof, including questions pertaining to the issuance of orders prohibiting the transmission of publications by mail.

[2] Brewster did not take the oath of office until Jan. 2, 1882.

NOTE.—The names of Theophilus Parsons, Robert Smith, Joseph Holt, and Orville H. Browning are omitted for the following reasons:

Theophilus Parsons, of Massachusetts, was nominated on Feb. 18, 1801, as Attorney General in place of Charles Lee, and was confirmed by the Senate, but no commission was issued, as he declined to accept the office. His name is sometimes erroneously included in the lists of Attorneys General.

Robert Smith, of Maryland, who had been Secretary of the Navy for four years, was a lawyer and was anxious to be Attorney General. Jefferson agreed to appoint him provided a suitable Secretary of the Navy could be secured. Accordingly, on Mar. 2, 1805, he nominated Robert Smith as Attorney General, and Jacob Crowninshield, of Massachusetts, as Secretary of the Navy. Both nominations were confirmed, and commissions were issued on Mar. 3, but Crowninshield declined to accept the office tendered to him. Robert Smith continued to act as Secretary of the Navy, and never took the oath of office or performed any duties as Attorney General, and, as a matter of fact, never held the office, though usually included in lists of the Attorneys General. Complete proof that John Breckinridge succeeded Levi Lincoln and that Robert Smith was never Attorney General is found in the following extracts from the United States Reports (3 Cranch, III): "On the 12th day of Feb., 1806, the honorable John Breckinridge was sworn in as Attorney General of the United States in the place of the honorable Levi Lincoln, resigned."

Joseph Holt: On Dec. 1, 1864, the President appointed Joseph Holt, of Kentucky, Attorney Genera Mr. Holt absolutely declined to accept the office, and on Dec. 2 James Speed, of Kentucky, was appointed Attorney General.

Orville H. Browning: On Mar. 12, 1868, Attorney General Stanbery resigned in order to serve as one of the counsel of President Johnson in the impeachment proceedings before the Senate. It was the President's intention to reappoint him after the trial, so, instead of appointing a successor to Mr. Stanbery, he appointed Orville H. Browning, Secretary of the Interior, Attorney General ad interim, and directed him to perform the duties of that office in addition to his own as Secretary of the Interior.

[1] Before the act of Mar. 3, 1863 (12 Stat. L., p. 92), there was no Chief Justice. When the court was first organized, in 1855, Judge Gilchrist was chosen by his associates as presiding judge. After his death, in 1858, the senior judge present presided until 1863, when the law provided for a Chief Justice.
[2] Promoted to Chief Justice.
[3] A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, was appointed Judge of the Court of Claims Mar. 16, 1915 (in recess), but did not qualify. Thereafter George E. Downey was appointed to fill the same vacancy.
